A Piece of Autobiographical Writing

Instructions: This exam requires you to compose a short piece of autobiographical work in which you write about ONE of the following.

- (1) An event in the past.
- (2) Your relationship with another person, who can be a family member, a relative, a teacher, or a friend.
- (3) Your self-analysis in terms of one specific theme.

Whatever you choose to write, it must reflect how you come to the way you are now. You may write in whichever form you like, such as a memoir, a diary, a letter, etc. But, remember to ENTITLE YOUR WRITING.

Your writing will be graded upon your originality/creativity, the concrete details, the coherence and organization, and grammar.
