Read the instructions carefully before you answer the following questions.

- I. Short Answers: Tell four of the following stories in your own words. 40% (10 points for each question)
1. Lot's wife
  2. The Tower of Babel
  3. The Prodigal Son
  4. Jacob's wrestle with the angel
  5. Moses and the burning bush
  6. The Siren
  7. Polyphemus
  8. Don Quixote's fight with windmills
- II. Essay questions: 60% (30 points for each question). Write some well-organized paragraphs to answer two of the following questions.
1. Compare and contrast Achilles and Hector in Homer's Iliad. Consider their personalities, motivations, intelligence, leadership qualities, relationships and standing with those around them, skills as soldiers, physical characteristics, and moral and ethical values.
  2. The Odyssey can be interpreted as Odysseus's search for self-actualization. Explain how, with each encounter, he comes closer and closer to it. Explain at what point you think he arrives at self-actualization.
  3. Aristotle's Poetics is supposed to be the first systematic literary discourse on genre in the history of Western literature. Analyze the tragic elements in Sophocles' Oedipus the King according to Aristotle's ideas of tragedy in Poetics.
  4. Compare the Creation myth of the Hebrews (the Book of Genesis) and that of the Greeks (Mythology) with a focus on how the universe and the living beings on it were created.
